Frank Plumpton Ramsey: Not to Scale

My picture of the world is drawn in perspective, and not like a model to scale.

F. P. Ramsey, 1925

Ramsey's work in mathematics, economics and philosophy, in the context of his family and life in 1920s Cambridge. Exhibition, prepared by Andrew Goodall and Jaroslav Nešetřil, featuring rare photographs from the collection of Ramsey's grandson, Stephen Burch, and by Ramsey's wife Lettice from the collection of Peter Lofts.
